FOREWORD

A school building is an edifice that is constructed of steel and cement strong and durable, and it is designed to accommodate an ever-changing flow of students. Year after year, day after day, our school buses dispense of their loads each morning, and laughing boys and girls stream in waves into the many worlds of M. N. S. To the rhythm of bells tides of boys and girls wash in and out of classrooms, and corridors and finally back to the buses, leaving the building empty.

As each individual forms a part of the mass, so each personality contributes to the whole Blue and White World - that abstract thing we call school spirit. The Treasured Echoes' Staff of 1968, proudly presents this abstract collection of people and events which filled our many worlds while at M. N. S.

GUESS WHO

It is a thing of beauty, all aglow;
Kind and delightful, this we know.
With a winning smile that's sure to please,
And dressed in fashions with the greatest ease.

It has been admired as a real friend,
Because personality dwells within.
Wisdom and integrity, it does possess;
Now are you willing to take a guess?

A man or a woman? Do you know?
Just turn the page, "It" will show.
Let's see where the spotlight falls,
And who deserves this round of applause.

SINCERELY

'Man's work is from sun to sun;
But woman's work is never done.

Rarely in one's life is there an occasion for eminence or exceptional honors for a job well done. Each student here, at one time or another has heard the soft, sweet, mellow voice of our honoree. To describe this outstanding, efficient and invaluable individual would require a myriad of words.

Her contributions to the school society are noteworthy. She has gone out of her way many times to make our school day more pleasant. We are fully aware that without her help, understanding, consideration, and co-operation we could not have obtained our cherished goals. From the beginning of her affiliation with the M. N. Smith Family in 1958, to the present, we have found her cheery smile a delight.

Therefore, the graduating senior class of 1968 wishes to dedicate its annual yearbook, Treasured Echoes, to Mrs. Etta Reed Bailey. This is an honor we feel she is greatly deserving of.

This is only one chapter that is written into your life's story book and we sincerely hope it will not be the last. May the choicest of blessings forever shower upon you,

Thank you, Mrs. Bailey, for your dedicated help and we have been blessed to have had our paths crossed.

Greetings to the Class of 1968!

Each class that has been graduated from Mary Nottingham Smith High School has had the privilege and pleasure to see changes in the curricula of the school, and a continual striving to promote cultural experiences that are so essential for one to live in this dynamic society. How much of this each of you has inculcated is definitely an individual matter. However, as an administrator, it is my sincere prayer that many of you have received the inspiration necessary to live a life of happiness rather than one of conflict.

American society in the 1960's is making fantastic, yet exciting demands upon all of us. The continuing explosion of man's knowledge staggers the imagination and force, increasing intellectual and vocational specialization in a highly complex society. As you continue your education in college, you will continually realize that life is complicated, but challenging. Are you going to prepare yourself to meet the challenges of automation? Think about this seriously, and remember that when life presents no challenges, then life ceases to be interesting.

You have my best wishes for your future success.

Best Wishes Seniors Of '68

Mr. Nathaniel
B. Williams

Five years ago we met here in this high school, you were eighth graders and I was a new instructor. I'm sure each of us, at that time, had ambiguous feelings regarding the future, since we were about to explore new horizons and encounter many strangers.

I soon began to feel at home as I settled down to work and became better acquainted with both faculty and students. I believe you did too. This became evident as you responded more and more to your new environment. Now, just five years later, you have progressed from uncertain, timid boys and girls to competent individuals.

Working with you has been a pleasant and fruitful experience. My life and work have been enriched from having been able to share some of your dreams and desires. May you continue to progress in this modern world of ours, and not settle into complacency.

Congratulations, and remember to maintain what you have, and strive diligently for what you want.

Even though her duties are numerous, she accepts them with a smile and does a very proficient service. St. Augustine said, "There is nothing so laborious as not to labor. Blessed is he who devotes his life to great and noble ends."

Senior History

In September of 1963, we were just a little spark of light ready to be ignited here at Mary N. Smith High School. Nothing extraordinary happened during this year, we just tried to meet necessary adjustments.

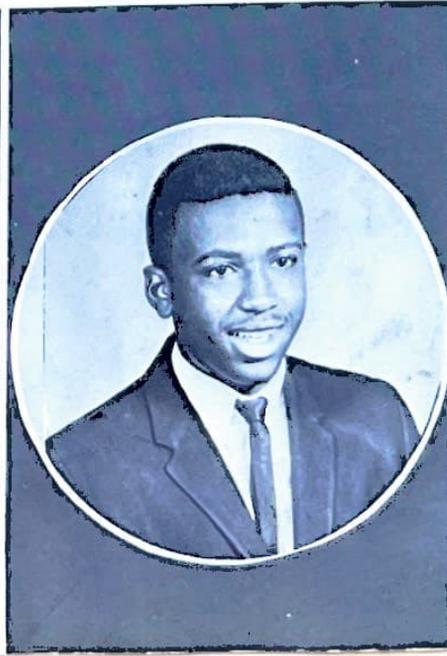

The flame grew larger and a little brighter as we entered school the following term with the classification of Freshmen, because now we felt we really belonged. We soon noticed, to our regret, that a few of our previous mates were no longer attending school here, but we were joyous to learn that new members had been added. This year passed swiftly as we tried, failed, accomplished and finally ended another school year.

The following school term we were tenth graders, real Sophisticated Sophomores. We realized we were moving forward, and in so doing we met with many new obstacles, but by this time our "flame of determination" was such a colossal part of our beings, we knew nothing would stand in our way. We had to reach that goal line. As if a guiding hand were out to give us even more encouragement, Deborah Parks was named "Student of the Month", for February; the first time in our school history a sophomore had had this title bestowed upon him. Charlie Mackey received honorable mention in baseball for the '65 season. So ended another school year.

Student of the Month

By the time we reached our Junior year the torch was aflame with success. Two members of our class, that year, were outstanding, scholastically and athletically. Patsy Dix was named "Student of the Month", for October, 1966. Wayne Cropper made all of us most proud by being named all V. I. A. in football in the spring of 1967. Our class presented its annual Junior play, which was entitled "Cheaper by the Dozen". Included in this year of events, occurred our annual Spring Formal. The theme most aptly chosen for it was, "Three Coins in a Fountain."

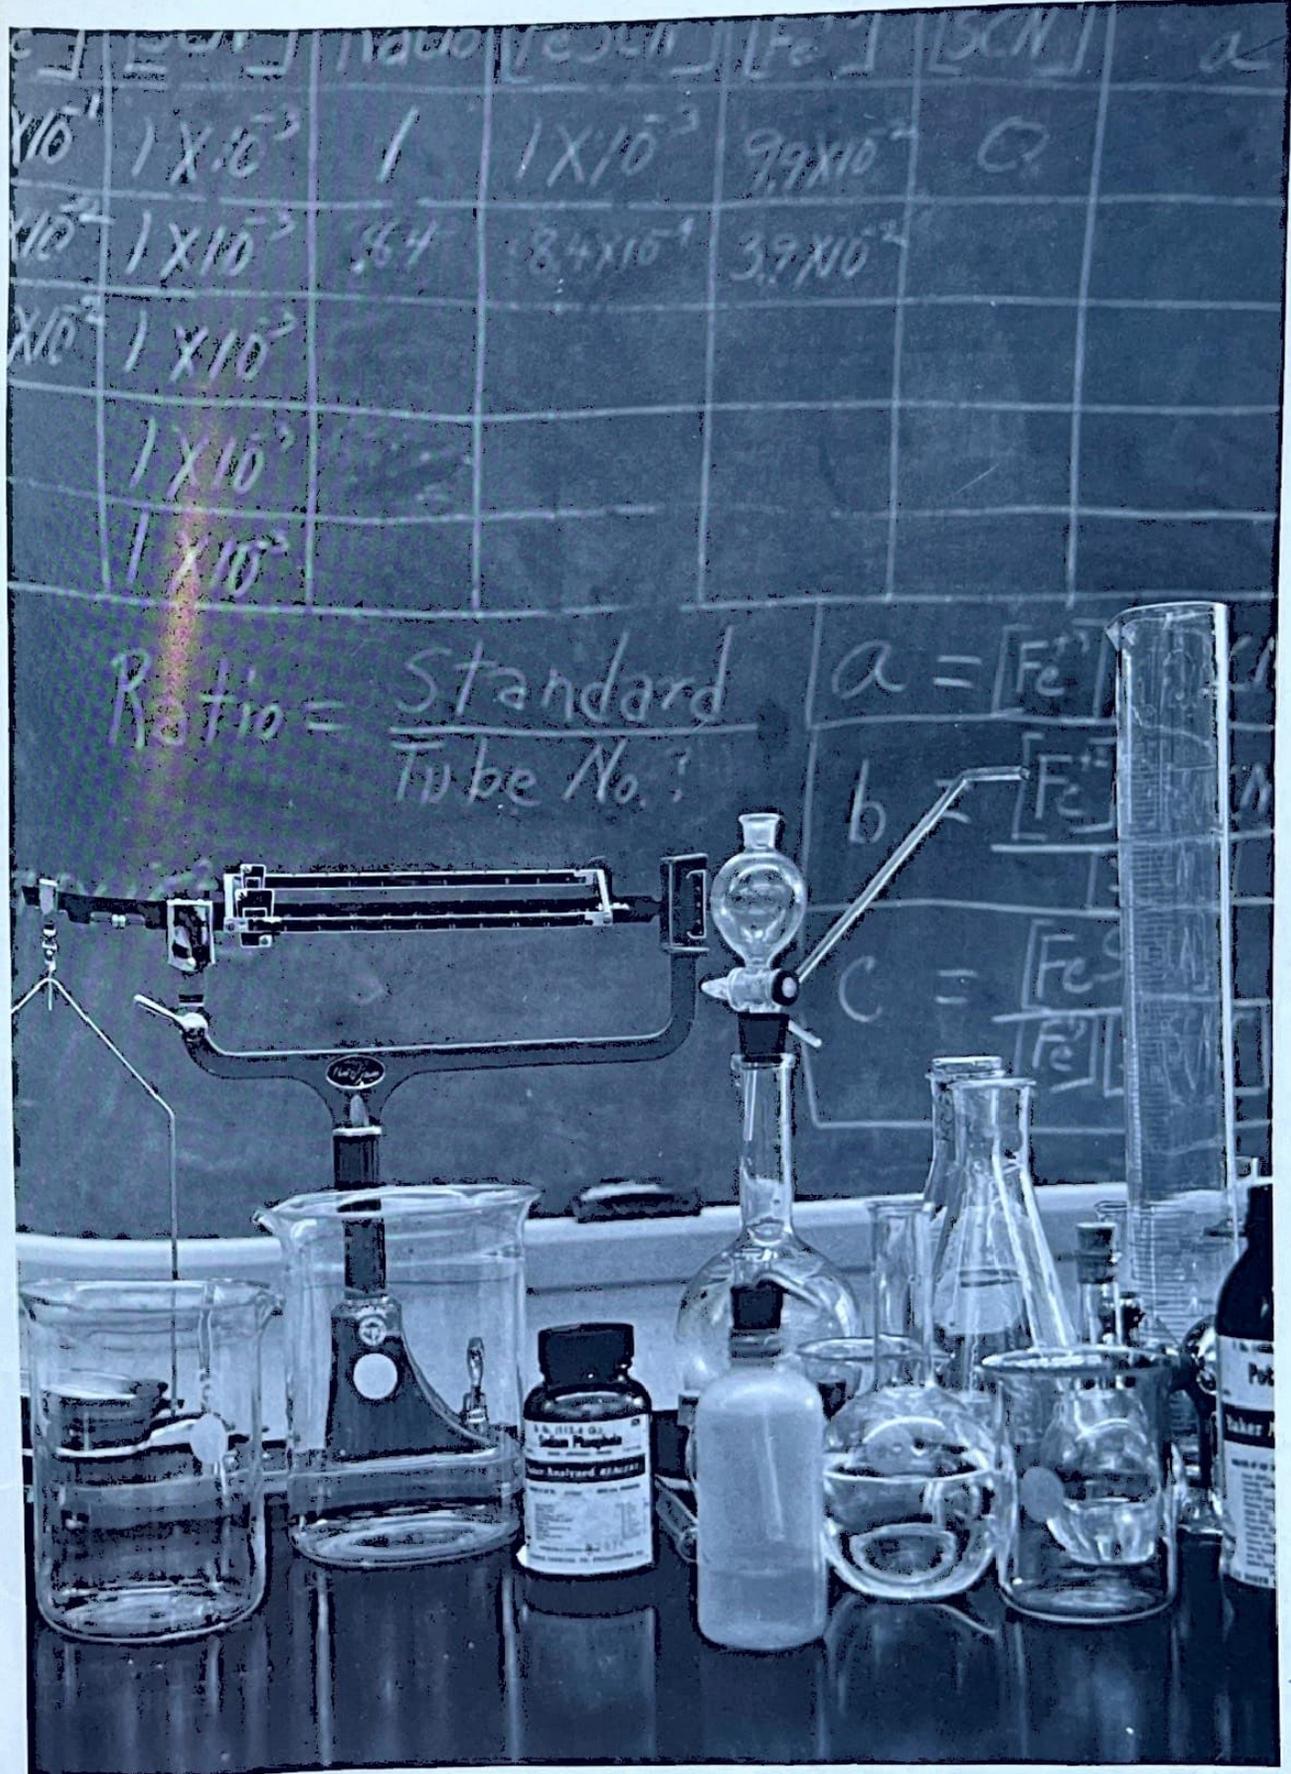

In the latter part of August, '67 we once again entered the corridors of M. N. S., the flame ablaze with enthusiasm over the fact that we were at last Honorable Seniors. Many things happened during this year that deserve to be recorded. Roosevelt Lilliston, the star of our varsity team, broke and set a record by scoring 36 points in a single V. I. A. Basketball game. Larry Kellam, also of the varsity team, was recognized this year by his peers for his dribbling ability. We worked assiduously on our yearbook and on our Senior play--"Stranger In The Night". We knew that this year was to be our most momentous one, ending five years of labor, rewarded with a "grand ole March" and our diploma. Then we shall reach for worlds we hardly dreamed of in yesteryears, meet vital challenges, create careers, translate dreams into reality and leave behind Our Many Worlds at M. N. S.

In times like these we need a source of unfailing hope. Infallible hope cannot be found in material things for they decay or become obsolete with the passing of time. Infallible hope cannot be found in humanity, for people are often deceptive. What we need is hope in God - He never fails. This is the type of hope the Tri-Hi-Y (the religious organization of M. N. S.) seeks to instill in its students.

From your
"grace"

my BIRTHDAY
is SUNDAY,
ALWAYS REMEMBER
MAY 26
I LOVE YOU

Dear Colby,

When you finish high school,
please don't forget me, and please wait for me. I'm sorry you'll be leaving this year, but time won't wait for you, so when you finish school always remember me, I know I'll remember you.

May you have the best life has to offer you. Never strive for anything, but always strive for the best. I hope I will see you after you finish school. If you will not meet at me at school, come see me sometime, please.

Colby, I hope you will wait and I also hope that you will trust me enough to think that I will wait
